I studied at Birla Balika Vidyapeeth Pilani(BBVP) from Class V to Class XII under the umbrella of Mrs. K. Kaul, then Principal of the school. Those days BBVP was one among the top ranking schools in India and famous for its Girls Band which has been the only constant in the Republic Day Parade at New Delhi year after year. Mrs. Kaul played a stellar role in shaping my character and personality. Whatever I am today is because of my school BBVP which taught me apart from the prescribed subjects, basic fundamental human values, ethics and discipline which helped me to deal with and treat my patients as a doctor in my profession in USA. I salute the Principal and teachers for the same.

Now I am back in Pilani, closer to my Alma Mater, at this stage to complete the circle of my life. I congratulate the present Principal Dr (Mrs.) Kasturi and the team of teachers for the way they have been maintaining the rich traditions of the school and my very best wishes to all of them for bringing more glory to the school in the coming years
